Doane College - Summer Term, 2015
May 25-July 25, 2015

Description:
An anthropological investigation of the meaning, content, and acquisition of the ways of thinking, doing and behaving as individuals in society. This course fulfills the Cultural Perspectives requirement of the Doane Plan. (Cross referenced with Sociology 308.)

Location and Times: Doane College, Lincoln Campus, Room TBA, Sect. # 1—Tuesday, 6:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. June 2 to July 21, 2015

Textbook Materials:

Course Objectives:
After completing the course instruction, the student should have an understanding of the globally interconnected world in which they live, the human past and present, and the unity and diversity that characterize the human species. In addition, students should be able to “make sense of the cultures of people unlike themselves, and to gain insight into their own behavior and society.” More specifically, the content will be structured around the following ideas:

1. Know the nature of anthropology and the divisions within the discipline including: cultural anthropology, linguistic anthropology, archaeology, physical or biological anthropology, and applied anthropology and to see the relationship between the study of anthropology and human evolution.
2. Identify the process of the ethnographic method and the interpretations of culture, cultural systems, and cultural change found in ethnography or the study of specific cultures.
3. Understand the characteristics of human language and the roles that language and other factors play in the transmission of knowledge.
4. Compare the survival strategies of various cultures and examine the different kinds of economic systems that have evolved in history.
5. View the importance of marriage, family, and domestic groups in a culture and to realize the variety of kinship systems and gender roles that have existed.
6. Comprehend the nature of gender roles in a culture and their relationship to the development of political systems.
7. Identify the forces leading to the development of political systems, the nature of social stratification in cultures, and role that is played by ethnicity.
8. Understand the role of religion and art in a culture.
9. Examine the impact of various anthropologists during the last two centuries.
10. Analyze a specific culture that was found in Nebraska since 1800.

Assessment of Student Performance and Grading:

Students will be able to obtain a total of 805 points from assignments, discussions and examinations conducted during the course. A sample breakdown for the number of points available is as follows:
Participation in Class 80 points

Weekly reading quizzes: Assigned chapters should be read on the day it is to be discussed in class (including the first day); quizzes are due the following week. 120 points.

Weekly participation grades 80 points

Situation Observation Project and other weekly assignments 175 points

Anthropological Theory Project 100 points

Culture Analysis Project 100 points

Midterm Take Home Exam 30 points

Midterm Examination 55 points

Final Take Home Exam 30 points

Final Examination 62 points

Summary of Examinations and Assignments:

Situation Observation Project Assignment: Due (Tuesday, June 9) Week 2. Students are to observe a social scene for half an hour, making sure that at least three people are part of the situation. The student will observe the situation for a minimum of half an hour. The student will then write up the scene observed and share the experience with the class. A more extensive assignment sheet will be handed out during the first class.

Anthropological Theory Project Assignment: Due (Tuesday, June 23) Week 4. Students will be assigned a section of the appendix: “A Brief Historical Guide to Anthropological Theory.” The task is to gather information on each of the names listed in bold in the assigned section by finding at least three pages of data on each person, either in a text or on the Internet, and then synthesize the material to a three-page report. In essence, students will be answering this question: “How did ________________ impact the study of anthropology?” Be sure to include an annotated bibliography.
Culture Project Assignment: Due (Tuesday, July 14) Week 7.

Students will demonstrate an understanding of the essential cultural traits of (A) one of the basic Native American Cultures normally identified with Nebraska (i.e. Pawnee, Otoe, Omaha, Lakota, Ponca, Winnebago, Cheyenne, Arapahoe, or Sac & Fox), or (B) one of the cultures described in Culture Sketches, by preparing and presenting a report.

The report (paper) should be no greater than 7 pages plus an annotated bibliography. Students should consult the text plus two other sources--one that should be a book and one that may come from the Internet. The report on the assigned culture should contain the following:

I. Cover page: Title, Course, Instructor’s Name, Student’s Name, Date.
II. Introduction.
III. Body
   A. Map of traditional tribal hunting grounds.
   B. Foods and other uses of plants and animals.
   C. Adaptations to the environment including living quarters, etc.
   D. Artistic endeavors.
   E. Ways of telling time.
   F. Tribal institutions.
   G. Gender roles, marriage, family, and clan arrangements.
   H. Religion and mythology.
   I. Rituals.
   J. Contact with Europeans/Americans.
   K. Present conditions.
IV. Conclusion.
V. Annotated Bibliography.

Example of an annotated bibliography:
This source introduces the nature of cultural anthropology but goes into significant detail regarding the development of anthropological theory. P. 394-400.

Students may opt to do a powerpoint or comic book that covers the above material. This will be discussed in class in advance of the assignment.
Midterm Examination: (June 30, 2015) Week 5: The exam will consist of an objective test over the first four weeks of vocabulary and concepts. A short take home exam will be handed out week four (June 23, 2015) and the inclass midterm will be week five (June 30, 2015).

Final Examination: (July 21, 2015) Week 8: The take home exam will consist of essays and T/F answer questions that will cover the entire content of the course. This portion of the exam will be a take home test handed out Week 7 (July 14). The In-class final will be week eight (July 21, 2015). This will be an objective test.

Course Policies:

Attendance: Student attendance at all class meetings is expected. If a student will be unable to attend a class meeting, it is the responsibility of the student to notify the instructor and perform any necessary makeup or additional assignments given to the student by the instructor. Students should obtain class notes from a fellow classmate, and the absent student is responsible for all material covered on the day of the absence.

Two or more unexcused absences may result in a failing grade.
