Course Description and Objectives

The following are objectives for COU 601, Theories of Counseling I to provide an understanding of the counseling process in a multicultural society and to provide an understanding of the aspects of professional functioning:

ψ Facilitate student’s experiential development of the basic relationship and interpersonal skills necessary for mental health counseling and psychotherapy, ψ Begin the development of self-care strategies, ψ Introduce students to professional organizations and their contribution to the student’s professional growth, ψ Exploration of counselor characteristics and behaviors that influence helping processes, ψ Development of essential interviewing and counseling skills.
ψ Crisis intervention and suicide prevention models, including the use of psychological first aid strategies,

The above objectives will be achieved through personal reflections and self-examination. During the course, the student will increase and sharpen his/her interview skills. Attention will be paid to the basic skills of “hearing” (attending, listening, and responding). By the end of the course the student should have a clear understanding of the overall field and in addition, should have reached the beginning level or improved the necessary basic counseling skills for listening with the “third ear” and be at the beginning level of being able to understand the “implicit message” in each communication. The primary focus will not be on intervention, but rather this course will lead to subsequent courses in counseling interventions. An “a-theoretical” approach will be used and multicultural and diversity issues in interviewing will be examined.

Required Textbooks

Learning the Art of Helping:Building Blocks and Techniques. 5E Young

A Brief Orientation to Counseling, 1st Edition Neukrug
Methods of Instruction

The techniques of instructors will consist of brief lectures, class discussion, videotapes, and role playing.

Course Requirements and Evaluation

Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Measures: Specific student learning outcomes, and CACREP standards will be assessed through direct and indirect assessments that will be administered throughout the course utilizing LiveText technology.

Evaluation will be based on:

- Class participation: 20% of grade
- Weekly reflections: 20% of grade
- Outside of Class Interviews: 20% of grade
- 30 Minute In Class Interview: 20% of grade
- Attendance: 20% of grade

Attendance

Sit by someone new each week. In class participation is the essence of Theories I. Therefore, there is no way a student can “makeup” missing a class. If you miss one class, your grade will drop one grade level (Example, A to A-). Missing more than one class is not acceptable. You will need to drop or retake the course with approval from the instructor and the Graduate Office.

Outside of Class Interviews

Listening is one of the key skills to being a successful, effective counselor. Students will be practicing their interviewing/listening skills throughout the term by doing outside of class interviews. Interview protocol is on Page 5 of this syllabus and will be discussed in detail the first night of class. Most of these outside interviews should be (not required) recorded so that students can critique their interviewing skills and see themselves as others see them (refer to page 4, interview protocol). A consent form must be signed by each interviewee. See Pages 7 and 8 of this syllabus for a copy of the consent form(s). Students are responsible for making their own copies of these forms. The consent forms will be turned in the 9th week of class. Recommended number of interviews – 15. Anytime during the term students may submit an interview tape of an outside interview to the instructor to be critiqued by the entire class prior to week 6.

Class Interview

Week six of this term will start the in-class interviews. Each student will do a 30-minute interview to be critiqued by the instructor and students. Students are encouraged to use as many skills as possible in this 30 minute interview (Page 6). Students will use another student in class as their interviewee. Each student will be the interviewer once and the interviewee once.

Personal Reflections

Students will be expected to keep a personal reflection/reaction journal to be turned in each week, the content of which will not be graded. It should be noted that the instructor considers the journal to be an extremely important part of a student’s participation in this course. While the content itself is not graded, the student’s effort to read, reflect, and react will be evaluated. We are looking for serious reflection guided by critical thinking regarding the reading each student does during the prior week and their reflection on class each week. Review reflection critique criteria on Page 9 of this syllabus. Reflections are to be typed using APA style and emailed as an attachment to Donald.belau@doane.edu. Subject line should read – COU 601 Week __ Reflections. The number for the week is the week of the term you email them. Your first reflection will be handed in Week 2. Put them in the following order:

- Cover Page
- Class Reflection
- Personal Choice Articles
- Textbook Reflection
- Reference Sheet

You will turn in reflections each week by 6 p.m. prior to class. Late reflection journals will not be accepted. Handwritten material will not be accepted or read. While I cannot guarantee you will get written feedback from each week, every effort will be made to comment when necessary. Each week the personal reflection/reaction journal will contain three sections:

I. Class Reflection – Reflecting on the content, discussions, your learning experience, observations, etc. Length 3-4 pages.

II. Personal Choice Articles – Each week students will select and critique three articles on a preassigned topic and/or topic of their choice for the week. Length and source of the articles chosen is up to the student. Reflection of personal articles is to be 4-5 pages in length for the topic of the articles read, not each article. Try to keep the information in your articles no more than five years old.

- Week 5 – Chapters 9-10
- Week 6 – Chapter 11
- Week 7 – Chapter 12
- Week 8 – Chapter 13
- Week 9 - No Assignment

Class Participation

A high premium is placed by the instructor on class participation. Ideal class participation, that which earns the highest number of participation points, will exemplify the following:

Integrating class readings into participation: Often cites from readings; uses readings to support points; often articulates fit of readings with the topic at hand and,

Interaction in classroom discussions: Always a willing participant; responds frequently to questions; routinely volunteers point of view, and,

Interaction in classroom learning activities: Always a willing participant; acts appropriately during all role plays, etc.; responds frequently to questions; routinely volunteers point of view.
Interview Tape Protocol

You are not a therapist!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

No questions.

Do not interview anyone under 21 years of age.

Do not interview anyone you know.

Try to incorporate as many interview skills as possible.

Outside of class interviews should be 45-50 minutes in length.

Get release forms signed before taping/interviewing.

The interviewee or information given by the interviewee should not be recognized by others if you choose to present it to the class.

All information about the interviewee is confidential.

If doing a video tape, tape only you. Makes sure your equipment is working!

At the end of the term, all interview release forms are to be handed in to the instructor (Week 9).
Observer’s Guide for Interview Skills

1. Focusing and following: (includes eye contact, verbal and non-verbal following)

2. Reflecting feeling: (accurate identification and reflection of interviewee’s emotion)

3. Reflecting content: (clear verbal reflecting of the content of interviewee’s statements)

4. Developing an individual style: (use of skills appears comfortable and congruent)

5. Communicating feeling and immediacy: (appropriate communication of feelings and thoughts in the context of the interview)

6. Confronting: (verbally note discrepancies or inconsistencies in interviewee’s behavior without value judgments)

7. Self-disclosing: (use of self disclosure when appropriate)

8. Information giving: (orienting statements, instructions, feedback, reframe or other information statement when appropriate)

9. Integrating: (verbally reconstructing the interviewee’s narrative to assist the interviewee in attributing meaning to his/her narrative)

10. Structuring for information and action: (assist interviewee in examining issues, considering alternatives in making his/her own decisions)

11. Enlisting cooperation: (using verbal and non-verbal skills to decrease interviewee discomfort and to increase client cooperation)

12. Putting it all together: (interventions which combine two or more of the previous skills)
Participant Consent to Make Audio Tape Recordings of Interviews

I hereby consent to having my interview with a counselor-in-training from the Doane College Master of Arts in Counseling program recorded on audiotape.
