Office Hours: Before and after class or by appointment

Course Description: This course will expose students the wide variety of functions managed by financial professionals. Topics include capital markets, financial intermediaries, investments, capital budgeting, government regulations, ethics in finance, the time value of money, and international finance. We will take both a qualitative and a quantitative approach with an emphasis on financial decision-making.

Course Objectives: Upon successful completion of the course, students should:
- Understand how stocks and bonds are issued and valued
- Understand the ways in which businesses typically organize finance departments
- Have an understanding of the role of ethics in financial decisions
- Understand the ways in which financial managers interact with the other primary corporate functions
- Understand strategic financial management
- Understand the ways in which financial ratios are used to assess financial health within industry norms
- Understand the ways in which the commercial banking and investment banking systems support corporate activities
- Understand the basics of futures and options
- Understand the concept of arbitrage and the ways in which money markets and commodity markets operate
Course Requirements:

Mid-Term Exam 30%
Final Exam 30%
Presentation 30%
Class Contribution 10%

The grading method will be explained in full in class. Exams will be comprised of short essay questions. The presentation will require each student to interview a financial manager and formally report the results to the class. Class contribution will be critical to the success of this course. Each of us will have experiences that can be of great benefit to the entire class, and you will be expected to share them. Please read the assigned material prior to each class. You should also keep abreast of major business news. These topics will frequently be discussed during class.
