

significance of regional history. Through successful completion of this course, students will gain a deeper understanding of the development and values of Western cultures, particularly as they relate to the United States, and the interrelations between people, systems, and social forces. Offered alternate spring terms.

353 Twentieth-Century World History (3)

An examination of modern political and social developments in six societies (Russia, China, India, Brazil, South Africa, and Japan). Change in these societies will be studied against the background of 20th-century global change in Europe, Africa, the United States, Latin America, and Asia. As a result of this course, students will gain an understanding of Western and non-Western heritages in terms of their origins, development, values, and distinctive qualities. Students will also gain an understanding of the nature of social, political, economic, and psychological forces and how they affect us. (Cross-referenced with Political Science 353.) Offered alternate fall terms.

421 History Internship (0-12)

On-the-job experience in history. Prerequisite: Cooperative Education 205 or permission. (Pass/Fail)

496 Senior Seminar (3)

The techniques of bibliography, research, and historical composition combined with intensive reading and discussion of select topics. Each student produces a historiographical essay and/or a research paper on an aspect of the main topic. Through successful completion of this course, students will gain a deeper understanding of the development and values of Western cultures and the interrelations between people, systems, and social forces. This course will also enhance each student's ability to gather, analyze, and interpret data. Prerequisite: Senior standing or permission.

Honors Program (HNR)

Associate Professor Orsag

302 Honors Seminar (1)

An investigation of topics not offered in other courses, honors seminars are taught at an accelerated pace and centered on topics selected on the basis of student interest and instructor availability. Honors students will take an honors seminar during every semester they are on campus (except for their final spring semester).

402 Honors Seminar Project (1)

This is a collaborative research project undertaken during an honors student's final spring semester at Doane College. This course is open only to graduating seniors and third-year students planning to graduate early. Prerequisite: Junior or Senior status. Offered spring term.