I. THEATRE DEPARTMENT MISSION AND GOALS

The Theatre Department gives students a general knowledge of basic theatrical skills required to understand, guide and create artistic works. The theatre department prepares students for graduate study in acting, directing, design, stage management, and theatre history, as well as for professional activity in the performing arts. Departmental goals are:

- To produce professional quality theatrical work
- To provide a stimulating and creative environment in which students can develop an understanding of theatre history, criticism, and dramatic literature as well as develop skills in acting, directing and design.
- To encourage a rich and diversified liberal arts education.
- To fully engage students in the craft and art of theatrical production by-encouraging active involvement in all aspects of production including acting and directing, set and costume construction, publicity, lighting, props, and theatre management.
- To give qualified students the opportunity to design costumes, sets and lights for main stage productions, to direct, and to perform challenging roles.
- To strengthen the confidence and self-image of every student.
- Develop students' communication skills.
- Develop critical thinking skills in an aesthetic perspective.
- Develop students' reading and writing skills.
- Develop research abilities.
- Develop an understanding of the cultural history of theatre.
- Develop skills through active theatrical endeavors required for active internships, graduate school admission, or professional activity.

Develop students' entrepreneurial skills to help get a jumpstart on their professional goals.

All students on theatre scholarship are required to be part of one of our two main stage semester production's in one of the following ways:

Note: job descriptions are subject to change based on show.

1. All involved in show: key dates of note
 - Reinforcement: During the run of the show, after a performance there will be a pizza party to support the work of everyone involved.
 - Photo Call: Actors, crew, designers, and the director will be involved in photo call which takes place after a performance of the show.
 - KCACTF Response: A respondent from KCACTF will watch a performance of our show and stay afterward to give actors, designers, the director, and all involved feedback on the production.
2. Actor
 - Actors must audition for the semester shows at the beginning of each semester and, if cast, must accept their roles in the production.
 - The directors of the two shows will collaborate to cast their shows
 - Actors must be present and prepared for rehearsals, memorize lines by given dates, attend all performances and required rehearsals
 - Actors are expected to be courteous and respectful to all individuals involved in the production.
3. Stage Manager (SM) or Assistant Stage Manager (ASM)
 - The stage management team is required to be at all rehearsals, produce rehearsal reports, give line notes, and attend weekly production meetings
 - SM will call the show from the booth, produce a prompt book with all light and sound cues, and manage the ASM(s)
 - ASMs will assist the SM in any way asked of them – including helping create rehearsal report, giving line notes, etc
 - ASM will be in charge of running the show and managing the crews on the ground during the performances
4. Assistant Director (AD)
 - AD jobs vary show to show and by director; general tasks include attending all rehearsals, writing notes for the director, helping brainstorm solutions, etc

VI. PANTHERA PRODUCTIONS

1. What is Panthera?

- Panthera Productions is a branch of Doane Players that encompasses all student produced work.

2. Getting Started

- First, decide what project you would want to complete
- Second, you must get the Panthera Production form signed by all theatre faculty, the Performing Arts Coordinator, and any other faculty or staff that

- may need to approve your request
 - Third, determine where you would like rehearsals to be held, performance dates, etc.
3. Students are able to request monetary support from the Doane Players to help alleviate various production costs.

VII. GROUPS AND ORGANIZATIONS

- Doane Players is an organization open to anyone wishing to be involved in the theatre department. Doane Players hosts the annual Doane Drama Conference, organizes the Haunted House, does community service projects, allocates money to various theatre student opportunities, and more.
- Alpha Psi Omega is the theatre honorary. To become a member, you must accumulate 100 points based on a points system. The organization hosts various events in the fall and spring, and takes a yearly trip to Chicago.
- Absolutely Unprepared – Improv Troupe is an auditioned group. The team performs once a month in Lakeside Coffee Shop.
- USITT is a technical theatre group which was new to Doane in 2017. The group focuses on preparing technical theatre artist for their future careers.

VIII. KENNEDY CENTER AMERICAN COLLEGE THEATRE FESTIVAL (KCACTF)

KCACTF is a yearly festival held in January where students have the opportunity to showcase their work as actors and designers, attend workshops in a variety of topics, see shows and scenes from around the region, and celebrate our work from the calendar year. The location of the Festival shifts every two years, this year being held in Sioux Falls, SD.

1. Students wishing to attend KCACTF must register themselves online before the festival. Early registration is $80. This payment must be given to the Performing Arts Coordinator prior to your departure to the festival.
2. There are numerous opportunities and events available to participate of the festival including:
 - Irene Ryan Acting Competition (by nomination only) – see below
 - Design/Tech Exposition
 - Intensives in a variety of topics including Musical Theatre, Improv, technical areas, etc.
 - Professional Auditions and Technical Interviews – to participate you must register online. Those wishing to audition must prepare two contrasting pieces of material not exceeding 90 seconds in length. Auditioners should bring copies of their headshot and resume to take to callbacks. Technicians should bring their portfolio and copies of their resume to disperse while interviewing with various theatres.
 - Costume Parade – for student or faculty designers to submit and be selected
 - Playwriting – there are several opportunities for playwrights to submit their work to be selected for readings during the festival
 - Directing – students may apply to be the director of a new play
 - 10-Minute Play Auditions
 - Workshops
3. Irene Ryan Information

- There will be two Irene Ryan scholarship nominees from each Doane production in the year (eight total). They are chosen by the KCACTF respondent and the show's director.
 - Students nominated for the Irene Ryan scholarship will select a partner to attend the festival with them. The duo will prepare one three-minute scene, one two-minute scene, and the nominee will prepare a one-minute monologue.
 - The Irene Ryan nominee may select any eligible person (not another nominee) to be their partner. If their partner is unwilling to pay the KCACTF registration fee, it will be the responsibility of the Irene Ryan to cover the cost.
 - All Irene Ryan participants will perform on Monday during the preliminary round. During this round, the duo will perform their two-minute scene and the nominee will perform their monologue. 64 teams will be chosen to move forward to the semi-final round during which both scenes will be performed. Finally, 16 are chosen to go to the final round where all three pieces will be presented during the final ceremony. There will be a top four selected, the top two advancing to the National Festival in Washington D.C.
 - Irene Ryan information is subject to change. Check with www.kcactf5.org for the current list of rules and changes.
4. More information can be found online at www.kcactf5.org. The event also uses the app Guidebook for mobile scheduling and information needed throughout the week.
 5. All students attending KCACTF will be expected to attend a meeting prior to the event. This meeting will have further information on registering for the festival, festival events, and expectations of students. Students will be required to sign a liability form stating that they understand our expectations and the expectations of Doane University while representing our school during the event.

Please see the Travel Liability Form for more information.

IX. DEPARTMENTAL TRAVEL

- KCACTF – see above
- USITT
 - USITT was new to Doane in the 2017-2018 school year. The group focuses on support and growth of technical theatre artist. The yearly conference is held in March in different locations around the U.S. The upcoming conference is March 20-23, 2019 in Louisville, KY. The conference can have partial support from the theatre department and Doane University via StuCo.
- APO Chicago Trip
 - Each year, students in APO have the opportunity to travel to Chicago. Typically held in December, students drive to the city for the weekend to experience shows, tours, and more. The trip is partially funded by APO with the help of StuCo and bake sale fundraising.
- New York City/London
 - All Doane students have the opportunity to take a major biennial theatre trip. Every four years, we travel to London, England to immerse ourselves in the theatre and culture, including the West End. Additionally, every four years we travel to New York City where we see Broadway and Off-Broadway shows, tour theatrical spaces, and do workshops with industry professionals. Students have the opportunity to experience both in their four years at Doane. The upcoming London Trip is schedule for January 2019, and the upcoming New York Trip is schedule for May 2021.

A Travel Liability Form will be required for all university funded/sponsored events.

X. THEATRE PURCHASING POLICY

Many people use Doane Theatre credit cards to make purchases for the department, specifically for the shows. The most common people who use the cards are designers or the Presidents/Treasurers of student organizations.

Here are a few rules to know and remember when using credit cards or purchasing items for the department:

1. Credit Card Policy

- When using a credit card, remember the following:
 - Keep all receipts – if you fail to obtain a receipt it will be your responsibility to go back and get another one.
 - Write down the appropriate charge
 - Organization name
 - Show name + area (ex: heathers props, nell gwynn costumes, etc)
 - Card holder's name
 - When applicable, be specific with the PO (see below)
 - Return the card promptly to whomever you borrowed it from, typically the Performing Arts Coordinator (PAC). Do not hand the card off to another student.
 - The main people approved to borrow credit cards: student designers, TD, presidents and treasurers of student organizations.

2. Charging Accounts

- Several businesses in the area have Doane accounts. You will give them the PO (see below) so the business office knows which department to have sign off on the invoice.
- Businesses include Ace Hardware, Sack Lumber, Doane Bookstore, etc. These will come to the mailbox of the PAC.

3. PO

- The PO, or Purchase Order, lets both the University and the PAC what department is being charged and/or what part of the budget should be accessed. The PAC uses this information to create an accurate budget for each show and for general department spending.
- Be as specific as possible - ex: "theatre carrie lights" or "theatre ubu scenery"

4. Tax Exempt Cards

- Some stores have tax exempt cards. The credit card holder has to get one from the store. Make sure you ask before you go. Walmart is a big one, also some stores in Lincoln.

5. Amazon

- Jeff has an Amazon Business account. Use this whenever possible.

XI. PLAY READING COMMITTEE

Each year, all students are invited to participate in the Play Reading Committee. The Committee meets weekly to have discussions based on a variety of plays that students have the opportunity to read. The plays will be available to be checked out from Joel's office during his office hours. It is imperative that students read as many scripts as possible to participate in fruitful discussion. A list of plays will be created for the first meeting, and will be available via Google Docs. The list will be edited as the committee eliminates plays. Final season selection will be announced during the theatre banquet at the end of the school year.

XII. DISABILITY STATEMENT

Students with disabilities substantially limiting a major life activity are eligible for reasonable accommodations in university programs. Accommodations provide equal opportunity to obtain the same level of achievement while maintaining the standards of excellence of the university. If you have a disability that may interfere with your participation or performance, please meet with one of the theatre faculty members to discuss disability-related accommodations and other special learning needs.

The departmental handbook can be found both online via Google Folders and posted on the downstairs bulletin board in the Con. Additional documents found in the Folder and on the board are:

- 2018-2019 Theatre Department Calendar
- APO Points Form
- Panthera Productions Permission Form
- Travel Liability Form
- Rehearsal Expectation Contract
